

Federal Aid For Parochial School Construction Killed By House Ruling

WASHINGTON (BP)—Federal aid for parochial school construction was ruled "not germane" and thus temporarily sidetracked during debate in the House of Representatives on the Thompson education bill.

Two congressmen, both Roman Catholics, Clement J. Zablocki (D., Wis.) and Roman C. Pucinski (D., Ill.), announced that they would propose amendments to the education bill to authorize federal loans to private schools as a means of aiding these schools. Only the Pucinski amendment reached the floor.

Pucinski proposed that an additional amount of 15 per cent of the grants to public schools be made available as long-term, low interest loans for private schools, the program to be administered by the Commissioner of Education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, rather than through the state departments of education. His reason for the 15 per cent figure was that 15 per cent of the nation's school pupils are in parochial schools. During the debate Pucinski showed members of the House pictures of the Our Lady of Angels parochial school fire in Chicago in 1958 which claimed the lives of 87 pupils. He said that at the time of the fire he determined that if he ever got to congress he would fight for federal aid to parochial schools in order to enable them to build adequate and fireproof buildings.

Pucinski Active
Pucinski and the others proposing loans for parochial schools made it clear that they conceived of such measures as substantial "aid" and that such loans would be more than mere business transactions with the government. When the amendment was offered it was referred to the parliamentarian who ruled that it was "not germane" to the purposes of the bill under consideration. He said that the question under debate was aid to public schools and that the proposal for loans for parochial schools was for aid to private schools, two different subjects. This was the second serious attempt to bring the question of aid for parochial schools before the House.

proposal by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) was defeated in the Senate by a narrow margin which could have been changed by seven votes. Just what the outcome in the House would have been if a vote had been allowed is unknown.

Four Year Period Set

Tyler Becomes BMC President

Dr. Wilfred C. Tyler, chairman of the Department of Religious Education at Blue Mountain College for several years, on Wednesday of this week became president of the institution, succeeding Dr. Lawrence T. Lowrey, who retired after serving 35 years in that capacity.

This change came as a result of action last December by the Board of Trustees, Dr. J. H. Kyzar, Greenwood, chairman.

Native Mississippian

Dr. Tyler is a native Mississippian. He graduated from the Brookhaven High School, which was at the time located adjacent to Whitworth College, which was then one of the outstanding colleges for women in this state.

He then attended Mississippi College, where he received his bachelor's degree. In college he was an outstanding athlete and for three years was a football letterman.

After his graduation from Mississippi College, he was teacher and athletic coach at the Laurel High school, where he coached football, basketball, and baseball. He helped to organize the Big Eight Conference.

Called To Ministry
Meanwhile he had felt the call to the ministry, and he entered the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., where he secured the degrees (Continued on Page 2)

Brotherhood Camp Proposal Studied

By Erwin L. McDonald
Editor Arkansas Baptist

The proposal of the Southern Baptist Convention's Brotherhood Commission to establish a Brotherhood camp ground on a 1,800 acre site in the vicinity of Huntsville, in North Arkansas, has been referred to the Program Committee of the Convention's Executive Committee for study.

This is the usual procedure and the referral of the matter to the Program Committee is a natural step. But this indicates that the story which broke here recently following a meeting of Brotherhood Commission personnel with Arkansas Brotherhood leaders was a bit premature.

The first question before the Program Committee will be: Does the Brotherhood Commission need its own camp for use of the Brotherhood and Royal Ambassadors? We are sure the Committee will give much weight to what Dr. George W. Schroeder, executive secretary of the Brotherhood Commission, has to say in this regard.

67 Nations Ready For Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil—(BWA)—Representatives of at least 67 nations will proclaim—each in his own tongue—that "Jesus Christ is Lord" when a flag-bedecked Roll Call of Nations opens the tenth Baptist World Congress here June 26-July 3.

A crowd of 20,000 visiting delegates and Brazilian Baptists are expected to crowd the sweeping circular concrete seats and vast floor area of Maracana Ginasio for the opening session at 3 p. m. Sunday, June 26. Led by a choir of 3,000 voices they will sing triumphantly the hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name"; then listen reverently as a Brazilian pastor reads in Portuguese the scripture of the Congress theme, Philippians 2:5-11.

Then will come the Roll Call of Nations.

Selected Delegates
A selected delegate from each of the nations represented at the Congress will march across the wide platform of the ginasio alongside a flagbearer with his own national emblem. As each country is named, the representative will turn to the microphone to speak in his own language the scripture of the Congress theme:

"Every tongue shall confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

Flags for the occasion are being specially made by Rio seamstresses so that all will be uniform in size and quality. Edgar F. Halleck, general chairman of arrangements, said.

Most of the nations will be represented again in other key parts of the eight-day Congress program. Some of the key addresses will be the President's message, by Theodore F. Adams, USA; the keynote address by W. D. Jackson, England; and the Congress sermon, by Baker J. Cauten, USA.

Church Leaders Ask Ban On Drinking On Aircraft

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(EP)—

Thirteen prominent Protestant Church leaders have joined in asking to ban drinking on commercial aircraft.

In a letter headed "Churchmen for Air Safety," the clergy urged Congress to close this "glaring gap in air safety," and said "It is difficult to understand why no decisive action has yet been taken to eliminate the service and consumption of alcoholic beverages on commercial airlines."

Letters To Leaders

Copies of the letter were addressed to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem., Tex.), Speaker Sam Rayburn (Dem., Tex.), Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (Dem., Wash.), chairman, and other members of the Senate Commerce Committee, and Rep. Oren Harris (Dem., Ark.), chairman, and other members of the House Commerce Committee.

By U. S. Churches

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Cash, food, clothing, blankets and medicines are being rushed to Chile by the Protestant churches of America to supply the staggering needs of thousands injured and left homeless by the series of earthquakes which struck the country earlier this week.

An airlift shipment of 480,000 multi-vitamin tablets to supplement the curtailed diets of earthquake victims has been arranged. The shipment, valued at approximately $2000, will be made by Church World Service, cooperative overseas relief agency of major American Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches in the United States.

Rural Study Commission Is Favored By Baptists

tist leaders have joined other religious spokesmen to urge the establishment of a Federal Commission on problems of small towns and rural counties.

Jointly sponsored by Sens. Karl E. Mundt (R., S. D.), Clifford P. Case (R., S. D.) and Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) S. 3140 calls for a study of the problems of rural America. It is similar to a recently passed Senate bill that provides for a study of the problems of Metropolitan areas.

Commenting on the proposed rural study on the floor of the Senate Mr. Mundt said that "most of those who have contacted me in regard to the need for establishing a commission on small town problems, indicate that they see a general breakdown in smaller towns which threatens the existence of churches and other forces for good in these areas."

Baptist Write

Among those who have written the senator pledging their support of the bill are Dr. Willis J. Ray, executive secretary of the Colorado Baptist General Convention, Wm. H. Rhoades, executive secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Societies, and M. Wendell Belew, secretary of the Department of Associational Missions of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Lutheran, Methodist and Catholic leaders are also cited by Mundt as having assured him of their support.

The Baptist leaders pointed out that a large portion of their churches are located in small towns and rural communities. Others declared that the welfare of the churches is directly related to the economic development of those communities. (Continued from Page 2)

The school's enrollment increased from 51 during its first year to 284 for the Fall session of 1959.

The college is noted for many distinguished alumnae. It was donated to the Mississippi Baptist Convention in 1919 by the Lowrey, Berry, Jennings and Hearn families.

The bill has been reported favorably out of the committee on government operations and is now awaiting a place on the senate calendar.

A recent regulation of the Federal Aviation Agency prohibits passengers from taking their own liquor aboard a plane and serving themselves, subject to a $1,000 fine, and also bars crew members from serving drinks to a passenger who appears to be intoxicated.

throughout the nation. Among the amendments accepted as part of the bill was the so-called "Powell Amendment" which provides for withholding federal funds from school system resisting desegregation.

The house education bill now goes to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out differences with the senate-passed measure providing $18 billion for two years for both school construction and teachers' salaries. No amendments can be proposed to a bill after it comes from conference committee.

Since the aid of parochial schools feature was successfully defeated in both houses, it is unlikely that this feature will be added to the compromise version to come out of the conference committee.

Public Hearings Ready

WASHINGTON (BP)—Public hearings on bills proposing government funds for both public and private schools of medicine and dentistry and for public health facilities have been announced by the House Committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

The sub-committee on health and safety will conduct the hearings June 6. Rep. Oren Harris (D., Ark.) is chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Commerce. Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D., Ala.) is chairman of the sub-committee on Health and Safety.

One of the bills, H. R. 6906, introduced by Rep. John E. Fogarty (D., R. I.), would provide $350 million in grants for the expansion of old schools and for the construction of new schools. The funds would be available alike to public and sectarian institutions.

The Fogarty bill would provide $250 million for a five year period for the expansion of existing schools and an additional $100 million for a 10 year period for new schools. The bill would also provide $25,000 "upon application of any medical, dental, or public health school" for the purpose of preparing initial plans with estimates for the proposed new construction.

"FOLLOWING THE STAR" was the theme of the G. A. Coronation held May 4 at Midway Church, Jackson. Four Maidens, five Ladies-in-Waiting, and three Princesses were recognized. The pastor, Rev. Wm. F. ## 54 NURSES CAPPED AT MATHER NURSING SCHOOL

Fifty-four student nurses from eight states received their nurse's cap at Mather School of Nursing, Southern Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, on May 27.

The ceremony signifies that these first-year students have successfully completed their pre-clinical training.

Among those receiving caps were: Misses Sally Ann Fenn, liberty; Jo Ann Herrod, Petal; Martha O'Bryant, Cascilla; Suzanne Stevens, Picaune; Betty Joyce Thompson, Morton; and Sammie Jones, Brookhaven.

The class is composed from Louisiana, Texas, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia, Missouri and Iowa.

Parents and friends of the students were present when the students were capped in a candlelight service. The ceremony was climaxed with the class repeating the Nightingale pledge as a dedication to the profession of nursing.

The cap received by students is symbolic of Mather School, just as every school of nursing has its identifying cap.

"The capping ceremony is always a highlight in the life of the student nurse," said Miss Elisabeth Lee, acting director of Mather School.

"By the end of her first nine months of training, the Mather School student has completed preparatory academic courses at Tulane University, and has had some experience in the hospital.

"She has begun to know the real meaning of the hospital's motto 'Healing Humanity's Hurt.'"

The next class will enter Mather School of Nursing at Southern Baptist Hospital, September 12, 1960.

Rev. Oster E. Daniels, pastor of McDowell Road Church, of Jackson, preached the baccalaureate sermon at Benton High School, Yazoo County, of which he is a graduate, on May 22.

During 1958 the Baptist Sunday School Board distributed over 16 million copies of general tracts, a considerable increase over 1957.

HOME MISSION WEEK OF PRAYER OFFERING! In checking the financial record of each WMU, we found that more than 400 missionary societies gave less this year than they gave last year! WHY? Is our interest less? Did we fail in preparation? Home Mission needs are greater—yet we give less! This means churches needed cannot be built, missionaries needed cannot be appointed!

Even yet we can make an added offering to supplement this week of prayer gift. Let's do this immediately!

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION—Alma Hunt

This is the title of the latest book released. We commend it to every Baptist—pastor, layman as well as our women. It is a composite picture of this mission organization. Miss Hunt states the purpose of the book:

"My purpose in writing this book, authorized by the Executive Board of Woman's Missionary Union, is to provide a simple book which will give understanding of the work of Woman's Missionary Union, its place in the Convention and in the churches. I have attempted to show that while methods and materials have gone through a process of change and development, the missionary education purpose of Woman's Missionary Union remains unchanged. No attempt has been made to give specific information contained in the manuals of the organizations which make up Woman's Missionary Union. In fact, an effort was made to avoid such repetition so that this book will supplement each manual and vice versa. It is my hope that the terminology used by Woman's Missionary Union has been handled in such a manner that it will become the language of the reader who has no WMU background.

This book contains nothing new. It simply brings together in broad outline the background, organization, and program of Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to Southern Baptist Convention.

To Dedicate New Building At Homecoming

Sunday, June 5, members of the South Louisville Church will dedicate their new Educational Building. This will be homecoming for all former Pastors and church members. There will be an all-day service with lunch served at the church. The dedication service will begin at 2:00 P. M.

The Educational Building, begun in September, 1957, is equipped with facilities for all departments (of which most are already departmentalized), a Nursery, three bathrooms, a kitchen, and game or dining room. The building, which is valued at $40,000.00, was built for approximately $16,000.00, the work being done by the pastor and members of the church with the exception of the brick laying. There still remains a very small indebtedness on the building.

The sanctuary has been completely remodeled with a choir loft, and baptistry added; a tile floor has been laid. New colonial style pews and pulpit furniture were installed.

Plans and color scheme from the Sunday School Board in Nashville, have been followed in the Sanctuary and the Educational Building.

Rev. Clyde A. Williams came to South Louisville as pastor in June, 1957. Since then there have been 93 additions, 54 by letter and 39 by baptism. The church now has W.M.U., Sunbeams, G.A.'s, Brotherhood, and an R.A. Chapter. The church also has an Extension and Cradle Roll department. The Sunday School and Training Union have more than doubled enrollment. In 1958 the church had a Standard Sunday School. The church is now contributing 14% of the monthly income to mission causes, of which 9% goes to the Cooperative Program and 5% goes to associational missions.

Selling Bibles To Save Souls

A man's ministry doesn't have to be confined to the pulpit—he can combine it with his everyday work and accomplish success in two ways.

This is the philosophy lived out by Dan J. Ottinger of Nashville, Tenn., a top Bible salesman for two decades, whose advertisement offering the Bible, and seeking other salesmen to sell it, appears in this issue of the Record.

A salesman for the Dickson New Analytical Indexed Bible with main offices at Chicago, Ottinger is manager of four southern states out of his Nashville office. He has been one of the company's best salesmen for years, and has been the top salesman every month since February, 1959.

Ottinger has been instrumental in the sale and distribution of thousands of these Bibles over the years, and has trained many others to do the same.

"I consider this work private preaching, and make no distinction between delivering a spoken and a printed message," Ottinger says.

Ottinger is now seeking sales representatives in this territory.

Mary Elizabeth Winders

Eight-Year Record

Mary Elizabeth Winders is a member of the First Baptist Church, New Albany, and she has not missed Sunday School in eight years.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Winders and is 14. She has been to Sunday School in New Albany, Jackson, and Macon, Mississippi; Ridgecrest, N. C.; Illinois; California; and Louisiana.

At New Albany High School she is a member of the Sr. Y-Teen Cabinet, Music Club, Beta Club, Student Council, and the band.

During 1958 the Baptist Sunday School Board contacted 7,903 volunteers for church-related vocations, 2,721 pastor, and 3,606 parents in vocational counseling endeavors.

Rev. Williams is the first full time pastor to live on the church field in a home furnished by the church.

The church now has ten ordained deacons.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Held At Parkway, Tupelo

Members of Girls' Auxiliary of Parkway Church, Tupelo, entertained their mothers at a Mother and Daughter banquet in the dining room of the Church during G. A. Focus Week. Corsages were presented to the mothers by each of the girls.

The tables and room were decorated in the green and gold colors of the organization. A silver star and banner proclaimed the theme of the present emphasis, "Following the Star."

Rev. Robert Shirley, pastor, gave the invocation and introductions of guests were made by Mrs. B. H. Mulholland, W. M. U. president. Special guest of the evening was Mrs. Allison Bell, first Girls' Auxiliary leader at Parkway.

The 53 persons present were welcomed by Miss Jean Brown, highest ranking girl of the local organization. The response was given by Mrs. W. M. Witt. A skit telling of the advantages of belonging to the Girls' Auxiliary was given by the Junior girls, after which, special music was presented by the Intermediates.

Mrs. Robert Shirley introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. J. C. Kelley of East Tupelo Church. Mrs. Kelley's talk on "Mother-Daughter Aprons" emphasized the need for strong companionship between mothers and daughters and for working together.

The benediction was given by Rev. Allison Bell, pastor of First Church, Okolona, who was first pastor of Parkway Church.

Graham Itinerary For 1960 Set

Evangelist Billy Graham's itinerary for the balance of 1960 includes only one major crusade in the United States: Washington, D. C., June 19-26, at Griffith Stadium.

During July, Dr. Graham will be speaking in conferences and conventions in Rio de Janeiro and Europe.

In August he will be joined in crusades in Switzerland by four associate evangelists: Roy Gustafson, Rev. Joe Blinco, Rev. Leighton Ford and Dr. Grady Wilson.

Dates for the Switzerland meetings are: Berne, August 20-25; Zurich, August 27-28; Basle, August 26-31; Lausanne, August 29-September 4.

Meetings in September will be held in the following cities in Germany: Essen, Sept. 10-16; Hamburg, Sept. 18-24; Berlin, Sept. 26-Oct. 2. Immediately following his return to the States, Graham will be speaking to the Spanish-speaking people of New York City in Madison Square Garden, Oct. 7-9 (EP).

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany (RNS) — After nine months of rehearsal, the 1960 production of the famed Passion Play opened in this little Bavarian village. An international audience of 5,000 persons filled the Passion Theatre to witness the eight-hour spectacle, which has been faithfully performed by villagers every 10 years since 1634, with only a few interruptions.

Quarles' Quotes

By The Executive Secretary-Treasurer

Convention — Although I attended my first Southern Baptist Convention in 1935 and have not missed one since, I believe the last one was the most inspiring one I have ever attended. There was a minimum of controversy. It seemed that most of our people were "looking up" in spirit. We sensed a real desire to be about the main business of God's work.

Preaching — Quite a bit was said about the preacher and preaching. One preacher told the fat preachers to quit eating so much. Another said our Baptist people should no longer be counted but weighed. But he was not talking about obesity but spirituality. To sum it all up most of us came away from the convention with a real desire to be a prophet (forth-teller) for God.

Courage — It takes more real courage today to be a real prophet of God than it has since our early spiritual fathers were whipped in Virginia, Maryland and South Carolina for their preaching. There are so many diversities of thinking that a preacher today must know clearly what he believes and then fearlessly to preach it. That takes real courage.

Criticism — There is no place for a thin skinned preacher in this modern world. All preachers are criticized. So what? Life is not easy in any calling. Teachers are criticized, doctors are criticized, lawyers are criticized. Are we preachers expecting anything different? Harry Truman said to a fellow politician once, "If you can't stand the heat get out of the kitchen."

Crusading — We must preach positively and in principle. This preaching of the great fundamentals and truths is the best preaching. But a God-filled man must fight sin and many times he must be specific. It would be well for us to remember, however, that "a gospel preacher is the world's best reformer until he becomes a reformer."

Cooperation — We see more evidences of it every day. More and more of our people recognize that their best way to undergird our world mission program is to give through the Cooperative Program. Recently I had the privilege to preach to one of our churches that had been come disturbed about the Sunday School Board's payment for the copyright privileges of the International Sunday School Lesson series. I sought to give this good congregation the facts of the case. I hope I succeeded. Dr. James Sullivan's statement to the Southern Baptist Convention corroborated all that I said. He received a tremendous ovation when he made the statement. Southern Baptists believe in the leadership of our Sunday School Board.

Control — After all every agency and institution of Baptists is controlled by the state conventions or the Southern Baptist Convention. If anything ever goes wrong we have the means to change it: correct, chastize or discharge. I'm glad I'm a Baptist and work in a spiritual democracy.

Maryland Names S. S. Secretary

BALTIMORE — (BP) — The Maryland Baptist State Mission Board has elected John M. Tubbs, of Nashville, Tenn., as secretary of the Sunday School Department and Church Building Consultant.

Tubbs is now employed as Church-Related Vocations Counselor for the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. He will assume his new position July 15. He succeeds L. J. Newton, Jr., who resigned to accept a position with the Sunday School Board.

Facing The Future Unafraid

We are living in perilous times. Perhaps this statement has been true a thousand times in the course of history, but it has never been true in a fuller sense than at this present moment.

Never before have men with a purpose to conquer the world had such a well organized program as right now.

Never have evil men had in their hands the instruments of destruction which they have now.

Never before has civilization been faced with an actual threat of annihilation. Buttons could be pressed by mad men now, which could within the space of half an hour, blast from the face of the earth some of the greatest cities of the world, and destroy the lives of millions of people. Current magazines tell us of a new bomb which can destroy all life without destroying property. The very thought of such destructive power is appalling.

If there has ever been a time when men's hearts were filled with fear and alarm because of world conditions it is today. The summit has failed and blustering dictators threaten utter destruction if their will is not yielded to. Prior to the summit conference one world leader is reported to have said, "If this conference fails we may be on the verge of the extinction of civilization."

What does it all mean? Are we truly facing the destruction of mankind? Is the cold war about to become a hot war—World War III? I do not know, nor do I think anybody else knows. However while men rush frantically to and fro seeking the answers, it will be well for Christians to turn back to their Bibles. It is necessary to do this if we are to understand the times.

What does the Bible say about times like this? There are many references which may be applicable. One cannot forget the words of Jesus in Luke 21:25-26. "And there shall be signs in the sun and in the moon and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken."

Surely there has been no time in history when these words were being so literally fulfilled as right now. Is this the very hour of which the Lord was speaking? I do not know. It could be, and if it is, then it is the hour of the Christian's hope. Our Lord added to these words already quoted, "And then shall they see the Lord coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads, for your redemption draweth nigh."

The world's greatest coming event is the second coming of Christ. Nothing in the future is more certain than His coming. Jesus spoke often of His return, and every writer of the New Testament discussed it. The Old Testament contains many prophecies of it too.

Jesus is coming again. Is the time near? We do not know, but the words of Jesus quoted above were spoken in answer to questions concerning His coming. We do know that the promise concerning His coming is that it is "imminent". That means that it may be at any time. We believe that the coming of Christ may be at any moment. He may tarry another thousand years, or He may come today.

In discussing the signs of His coming, He spoke of perilous times, of distress, of fear, and of many other things. Many students of the Word believe that all the signs which He gave have been fulfilled or are being fulfilled in our generation. If so His coming may be near.

The Christian's hope is Christ. It is not in peace conferences, increased armaments, or overpowering strength. While we favor every effort being made by our president and other leaders to try to find a way of peace, and believe that every Christian should pray for these leaders in their effort, at the same time we should not take our eyes from our one true hope.

That hope is Christ and His return. When we have our trust in Him, we can face world conditions without fear.

A Study Of Statistics

Preliminary figures have been released by the Census Bureau concerning population changes in Mississippi. They make an interesting study when analyzed and when compared with statistics of the Mississippi Baptist Convention.

Mississippi has lost population during the past decade. In 1950 the population figure was 2,178,914, while preliminary figures for 1960 show 2,161,529, a loss of 17,385.

During the same time Mississippi Baptists increased in membership from 366,172 to 460,221, a gain of 26%. In other words while the state was losing population, Baptists gained 26%.

The census report reveals that most of the cities of Mississippi gained in population while rural areas lost.

The largest gain was Hinds County with a growth from 142,164 to 186,572. This is an increase of 31%. During the same period Baptists in Hinds County increased from 23,634 to 36,699, an increase of 55%.

Harrison County (Gulfport, Biloxi) gained 41%, while the Baptists of Gulf Coast Association (Harrison and Hancock Counties) gained 103%.

The census reveals that losses in the state were in the rural areas. The farm people are moving to town.

Ten of our Baptist Associations, all rural, reported a loss in membership in the decade. However, most rural associations reported gains, and some showed splendid gains.

Mississippi Baptists are more than holding their own in relation to population shifts and changes in our state.

Authority Of The Word

Basic to all doctrinal soundness is belief in the Bible as the inspired Word of God. When a person ceases to believe that truth he may be expected to uphold almost any heretical doctrine. If a check is made of those who espouse liberalism, and reject such doctrines as the virgin birth, the blood atonement, or the bodily resurrection, we believe that it will be found that they first rejected the authority of the Scriptures.

Baptist growth and strength may well be attributed largely to the belief in the divine inspiration of the Bible. It is the authority of the Word that has made us what we are. To abandon this position would quickly set us on the downward road of destruction.

Baptists of today must continue to say with Dr. B. H. Carroll, "All the New Testament is the Law of Christianity. The New Testament is all the Law of Christianity. The

Genealogy of Salvation

By Buck Donaldson, Jr.
Missionary to East Africa

I have gained a new appreciation for the genealogies of the Old and New Testaments.

It happened in Aden, at the entrance to the Red Sea. A Moslem was given a copy of the Old Testament by a Jewish friend. He read it. And as he read through each book he was impressed with the detail he found in the genealogies. He said to himself: "This is history. This is carefully written. This must be true!"

And so he thought: What about the New Testament? I must read it also.

He found a copy of the New Testament. To his amazement at the very beginning was another carefully written, detailed genealogy! "This must be true also!" he said. Eventually he accepted Christ and professed publicly his new-found faith.

But his Moslem community was not so happy about his discovery. The leaders said: "You are no longer one of us. Since you are a Christian, you have deserted your people. Your wife, therefore, is no longer your wife and your child is no longer your child."

But his wife had seen something happen which she had never witnessed before. Her husband was a changed man! She was impressed. She was convinced of her own need of Christ as Saviour. And she said to the people of her community: "What has happened to my husband is real. I, too, trust Christ. I am my husband's wife, and his child is his own." Today, though persecuted, they live together in Aden and serve Christ.

How I love to read the genealogies of the Bible now!

Pages From The Past

By J. L. BOYD, Sr.

60 Years Ago

The First Church, Starkville, dedicated their "new splendid brick Baptist church" with Rev. H. F. Sproles of Vicksburg preaching the dedicated sermon to a "packed house." All other churches of the city withdrew their 11 o'clock services to attend. The sermon was an hour and five minutes long but the audience was "enraptured" and "felt that it was too short."

The Calvary (now Bowmar Avenue) Church, Vicksburg, takes immediate steps to build their house of worship expecting it to be ready to hold Thanksgiving service in Rev. C. C. Pugh, pastor.

50 Years Ago

The annual revival meeting of the Gillsburg Church, Amite County, closed on May 8 with "seven little boys and three little girls to come out on the Lord's side." Pastor D. W. McLeod did the preaching.

The Leland Church had their revival meeting under a tent and "great congregations" greeted Evangelist, W. D. Nowlin and Prof. Bourquin who led the singing. Thirty-one joined the church, 22 of them by baptism, reported by Pastor A. J. Miller.

Jennie Jones reported on the results of the Logtown Church revival meeting, Hancock County, during which Rev. Webb Brame of Long Beach did the preaching, resulting in nine additions, seven of them for baptism. Rev. J. H. Patton, pastor.

Editor Bailey states that 197 sermons were preached in Baltimore during the S. B. C., six of which were by Mississippians, including Rev. W. A. Hewitt, the only one living today (1960).

40 Years Ago

Pastor A. A. Stanley of the First Church, Grenada, reports that there were 50 accessions, 36 of whom came for baptism, during a meeting of days in which Rev. S. E. Tull of New Orleans did the preaching and Miss Mabel Clair McMurtry of Louisville, Ky., conducted the singing.

New Testament will always be all the Law of Christianity."

Dr. Carroll believed that all of the Bible was the divinely inspired Word of God, but that the New Testament was especially given as the Law of Christianity. If Baptists of today continue to hold to this position all the forces of hell cannot destroy them.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union

The recent legislative effort to substitute a county option law for prohibition ended in a stalemate. Prohibitionists held the prohibition law. Legalizationists kept the Black Market Tax, no constructive legislation was even proposed to help the victims of alcohol or to improve the educational program to give the public more knowledge of alcohol's nature and effects.

That task still rests on volunteer forces of concerned people who are all too few in number. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is one of those forces; and its program is the most influential and inclusive, since it embraces both education and remedial legislation, with emphasis on Character Education and Christian Citizenship, as well as Scientific Temperance Instruction and work with youth.

But programs can't work without people, and united effort can only be focused through organization. We invite all who are concerned and want conditions to be better in our state to join in strengthening this organization.

Conditions of membership are signing our total abstinence pledge (given below) and paying one dollar (minimum) dues to the state treasurer each year. Men are invited to be honorary members on the same conditions. Where there is no local union, one may become a state member (or member at large).

Our special membership campaign ends June 25. If anyone desiring more knowledge will write me, I'll be happy to send literature and information.

If you are concerned about the moral and social conditions of today, won't you join with us in promoting the educational and legislative programs of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union? Dues and signed pledge may be sent to me, and I will forward to the state treasurer.

Appreciation For The Record

I have read, with prayer and interest, the Baptist Record since my subscription began in February. I think the Record is a very good informer for the people of the great state of Mississippi. It keeps us informed of the work of the Baptists which is being carried on, not only in America, but also throughout the world. I feel that too many people read the paper as a habit rather than with interest in God's work that is being carried throughout the world. We must be careful, however, not to place too much emphasis on ourselves as Baptists. I am proud of the great work of the good Baptists of our land. I'm glad to be a Baptist, but first of all, those of us who are Christians must realize that our primary mission here on earth is to seek the lost and try to get them into God's great family.

I read the article in the March 17 issue of the Baptist Record on Lent. Certainly, every single day of the year should be a day of self-denial. Jesus says in Luke 9:23, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily and follow me." A Christian should and must deny himself daily and follow Jesus if he expects to be blessed of God. It is heartbreaking to see God's people live so devilish, and when the time comes to attend church or observe certain special seasons such as Lent, they seem so humble and loving. Some are in church on Easter, or maybe attend a Thanksgiving Service; then they don't step inside another church until the next Easter or Thanksgiving Day. God's work tells us that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

It is my prayer that God's people will humble themselves and seek his face as He has said in 2 Chronicles 7:14. We need more revivals in the hearts of people. A revival is more than simply having a week or two weeks of meeting and preaching at our church. A true revival is in the hearts of God's people. If God's people will have a revival in their hearts, then and then only, can we see souls who are lost and doomed come to know Christ as Lord and Saviour.

Again, I wish to say that I enjoy reading the Baptist Record, and I pray that God will richly bless the people who work on the Staff. It is good to have a paper such as this to inform the people of the work that is being carried on for God.

Sincerely,
WALTER E. HINES, Jr.

"MINISTER'S WIFE CAN'T PRAY"

QUESTION: I'm a minister's wife (not by choice) and I cannot pray out loud, nor can I speak before a group. I teach a Junior class in Sunday School and attend all regular worship services. I believe in prayer too. But I am afraid to go to Training Union or Woman's Missionary Union because I'm afraid I will be called on for public prayer.

Do you have any suggestions?

ANSWER: Yes, admit to yourself that you are a limited human being, and suffer the consequences. People are pretty reasonable, as I try to show in an article "The Minister Takes A Wife" soon to appear in Church Administration, a new Southern Baptist periodical.

You may do more good praying in private than in public. So far as making speeches is concerned, there are usually plenty of people to talk. We need more people to practice their religion in humility and love.

Do not lose any sleep. Those in your husband's church who know how to love will be kind and understanding.

(Address all questions to Dr. Hudson, 116 West 47th Street, Kansas City 12, Missouri.)

New Books

EFFECTIVE PUBLIC PRAYER by Robert L. Williamson (Broadman, 152 pp., $2.95)

Dealing with the significance of prayer in the public worship service the author discusses the need, errors, excellencies, function, content, language, preparation and fruits of the public prayer. The author is sympathetic with the desire for exuberant prayer, but believes in the need for proper preparation. Many preachers will profit by reading this book. It should help many of us to get out of a rut.

THE OLD TESTAMENT SPEAKS by Samuel J. Schultz (Harper, 436 pp. $7.00)

A conservative survey of the Old Testament. The author believes that the Old Testament is inspired of God, and seeks to present its truths through all the means available to the scholar. He uses archeology, geography, history and language to unfold the message to the reader. There are numerous maps and several charts to aid the student. Will be of value to the average reader and student of the Word.

THE BIBLICAL EXPOSITOR (Volumes I, II, and III) by Carl F. H. Henry (A. J. Holman Company, Philadelphia, $6.95 each)

An outstanding new contribution in the field of Bible Commentaries. Leading evangelical scholars, men who believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, have written for the average reader. Several Baptist scholars are included among the contributors. While not a verse-by-verse exposition, the comments do cover each book section by section, and there are splendid introductory articles, etc. The latest scholarship discoveries, archeological findings, etc., contribute to the riches of these pages. This is a set that will be helpful to the minister, whether young or old, to the teacher, and to the ordinary Bible student. These books will often be opened by the earnest student, and those who love to linger in the riches of the Word.

THE EPISTLE TO THE ROMANS (Vol. 1—Chapters 1-8) by John Murray (Eerdmans, 408 pp., $5.00)

Another volume in THE NEW INTERNATIONAL COMMENTARY ON THE NEW TESTAMENT: A scholarly, conservative, verse-by-verse study. The author reveals his careful scholarship, but also his ability to make spiritual truths live for the reader. Careful attention is given to difficult passages. Four chapters are added with discussions of great themes discussed in Romans or related to Romans. The volume is well indexed.

A ROMAN CATHOLIC IN THE WHITE HOUSE by James A. Pike (Doubleday, 143 pp., $2.50)

Episcopal Bishop Pike clearly presents the issues facing American citizens in this election year. He begins by showing that it is not bigotry to ask questions concerning the Roman Catholic position. He discusses the traditional American view of Church and State and then presents the "official stated" Catholic view. This is followed by clear analysis of other issues as they relate to this action. He closes by showing what the voter must consider before he votes. An important book for those who would be completely informed.

BIBLE HIGHWAYS by Ivor Powell (Zondervan, 171 pp., $2.50)

More than forty Bible messages by a Welsh Baptist preacher, who has had a wide ministry in Canada. The sermons are brief, clearly outlined, rich in thought and well illustrated. The author has an unusual ability to make a point from the Scripture and then make it live with an illustration from life. Helpful for preaching and devotional studies.

During 1958 the Baptist Sunday School Board published 68 new books, a total of 1,742,115 copies, and reprinted 200 titles, a total of 2,058,743 copies—a grand total of 3,800,858 volumes.

WOODLAND CHURCH, Rev. Joe L. Jolly, pastor, gave flowers on Mother's Day to the oldest and youngest mothers present, and to the mother having the most children. Mrs. J. P. Hill, the oldest mother, received an orchid; Mrs. Curt Corstait, with the largest family of children, received a corsage of white carnations; and Mrs. Charles Buckingham, the youngest mother, received a corsage of red carnations. Mrs. Joe L. Jolly, the pastor's wife, pinned the corsages on the mothers.

Calvary (Monroe) Is Reactivated

Calvary Church, Monroe Association, Nettleton, for a time ceased to be, they decided to move to another association and change the name of the church. However, a number of the members decided that they would not move with the church to the other community.

Under the leadership of Rev.

L. C. Edwards, a revival meeting was conducted with Rev. Ike Berryhill doing the preaching. As a result of the revival, the church was reactivated under the old name and reorganized in all phases of work on a full-time basis. Rev. L. C. Edwards was called as pastor, and the following are serving in places of leadership:

Sunday School Superintendent, Jebb Harris, Okolona; Training Union Director, Carolyn Anderson, Okolona; Brotherhood President, James H. Owens, Okolona; and WMU President, Mrs. Earl Ratliff, Okolona.

"Good attendance and splendid interest characterize all phases of the work and remarkable progress has been made in these brief months since the reactivation. Incidentally, the other church is also going forward in a great way. Now we have two churches instead of one. We have many other places in Mississippi where we need to reactivate and begin all over again," states Rev. R. B. Patterson, area missionary, of North Mississippi.

Taiwanese Chapel Is Joint Project

West Park Road Baptist Chapel, dedicated March 27 for Taiwanese-speaking people in Taipei, Taiwan (Formosa), is a joint project of Mu Yi and Calvary Baptist churches in the city.

Mu Yi Church, first and only organized Taiwanese-speaking church related to Southern Baptist work on the island, saw the need for the chapel. From its membership came willing workers; but, not yet being financially independent itself, it could not supply the money. An appeal for help went to the evangelistic committee of the Baptist mission in Taiwan.

English-speaking Calvary Church heard of the appeal and saw in it an opportunity for its members, U. S. servicemen and their families, to work directly with a chapel on the mission field. The church voted to pay the $35 a month needed for building rent and caretaker's salary.

"Now we have a new chapel because American Christians joined hands with Taiwanese Christians to work for the Lord," says Rev. Richard E. Morris, Southern Baptist Missionary to the Taiwanese. "But this is not unique. After all, this is exactly that each Southern Baptist does when he gives to foreign missions through the Co-operative Program and the Lotis Moon Christmas offering."

By Dr. L. Bracey Campbell

Scripture Texts: Matthew 7: 1-12; Luke 10:25-37.

1. THE SAVIOR'S WARNING AGAINST HASTY JUDGMENT.

"Judge not that ye be not judged." In school, in church, in business, in politics, in the community, in public duty and in private thinking, we every day and ever hour, almost, we form opinions or cast judgments upon someone or something. We do it whether or not we wish. The Lord knew and knows that. What does He mean? I think His meaning is not far to seek.

Since He cannot mean that we are never to make a choice between right and wrong, what then?

By hasty judgment of the wrong, the judge casts judgment against himself. You see a deacon enter a door behind which liquor, among other things, is sold. You immediately judge the deacon as to his purpose in entering that door. You are by that judgment saying what your purpose would be if you were entering that door. So, my spotted sister, you observed the president of the WMS walking toward the church on a quiet weekday. You discreetly follow, and note that she enters the pastor's study. Now your judgment! That hasty, perhaps dirty judgment, would be the purpose that would be leading you, were you to be making that quiet entry. "Judge not, for in judging another you judge yourself. Again, the censorious judgment is made the minister to the ego, the better-than-thou feeling upon the part of the self-appointed judge, as, "Lord, I thank Thee that I am not as other men, or even as this publican."

II. LOOKING PAST OUR FAULTS TO SEE THE FAULTS OF OUR NEIGHBORS.

"Why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, and considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?" (Matt. 7:3) Let's let Moffatt at it: "Why do you note the splinter in your brother's eye and take no note of the plank in your own eye?" Why do you take note of the small splinter in your brother's eye and take no note of the crossbar in your own eye? Why do you notice the small grain of dust in your brother's eye and take no notice of the brickbat in your own eye? "First cast out the beam out of thine own eye." First repent of the scandalous conduct in your own life, and when you have done thus much, washed your own dirty face, laundered your own dirty linen, sterilized your own dirty tongue, this done and no whit before, presume to cleanse your neighbor's character and conduct.

III. A CAUTION REGARDING MINISTRY.

"Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you" (Matt. 7:6). In the RSV it reads, "Do not give dogs that which is holy, and do not throw your pearls before swine, lest they trample them underfoot and turn to attack you." Now hear Charles B. Williams: "You must never give the things that are sacred to dogs, and you must never throw your pearls before hogs, for fear they might trample them under their feet and tear you to pieces."

This verse is an awful indictment of the character of sin. He speaks of literal dogs and hogs, but he is employing figures of speech to describe sin-besotted men. The two most despicable animals on earth in the sight of a Jew were dogs and hogs. To use a low-down dog or a brutish hog to describe a man was to put the man right down to the bottom.

And there are conditions under which giving the truth of the gospel to some men is as useless and sometimes as dangerous as to feed sacred, holy, sacrificial flesh to yapping, snapping dogs or wild hogs, that will attack and kill and eat you. Many a man and good woman has approached with kindness a brutish sinner only to be insulted and to have her Savior reviled, and her or his church black-guarded.

IV. EARNEST EXHORTATION TO PRAYER.

"Ask and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened; for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall (it SHALL) be opened." Let's let Goodspeed tell it: "It is always the one who asks, and the one who searches who finds, and the one who knocks to whom the door is opened."

By thought, by work, and by prayer — thus do we communicate with God. Let us ask God. We should not boast to God, we do not tell Him, we ask Him. Let us ask His guidance on the way. Now let us seek, do it ourselves; wait not for His peace to be shed upon us but go about getting it in His way — by preparation of soul, by harmonizing our turbulent hearts, by bringing our whole being into subjection.

But you may come upon a locked door, what then? Maybe He does not want you to enter that door. So it is better if you do not enter that one. But you want to be sure of your course with Him! Knock, then, for only God can open the doors to the abundant life and fellowship you need, and believe He waits to see whether you really want to enter.

Off The Record

At the New York Museum of Natural History, a small boy gazed in awe at the dinosaur skeleton. It was easy to see that the youngster was deeply impressed. Suddenly he turned to his mother and exclaimed, "What a soup that would make!"

Burglar: "Your Honor, I was foodles, friendless and homeless."

Judge: "You move me deeply, young man. Food, shelter and companionship shall be yours for the next year."

Car salesman (proudly): "This is our best model — the one we are pushing."

Customer: "No thanks. I have to push the one I have now."

When the country gentleman got to the city, he unknowingly got on a one-way street and was driving along in the wrong direction. A cop stopped him and asked him where he thought he was going. The man replied: "I don't know, but I must be late — everybody else is coming back."

"Pa!"

"Yeah, Son?"

"How come Noah didn't swat both flies when he had the chance?"

Wheels Within Wheels

By DR. EUGENE L. SKELTON
Pastor, First Church, Pascagoula

"Such was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord." Ezekiel 1:28.

If you have lost your consciousness of the presence and nearness of God you may find it again just as did a great and noble man more than twenty five hundred years ago. In the days when Jerusalem fell and in the time of Judah's exile he lived, Ezekiel, the prophet of God. He was yet a young man when those terrible days began, but old enough to understand when older prophets foretold the coming destruction of the holy city and to share the sense of desolation which came upon all when the predictions became reality. He along with King Jehoiachin and many of the finest young people of the tiny kingdom of Judah were led away as exiles to the far off realm of the Babylonian conqueror, Nebuchadnezzar.

Desolation

The feeling of desolation on that journey was complete and overpowering. No songs were sung and even in the new home lips were sealed as the musicians hung their harps, unused and unwanted, in the trees to warp and rot. Joy and happiness were gone for all believed that God had cast them aside. Mistaken as was this conception the sense of the loss of the presence of God was real indeed.

Joy

One day as Ezekiel meditated upon the desperate condition of the exiles a vision came to him. It began as a cloud which at first seemed to be no more than the usual wind storm from the north, but which the prophet soon recognized as a sign to himself, for it grew larger and appeared to press in upon him, and the jagged flashes of lightning were as fingers reaching out to touch him. It was then he saw the chariot within the cloud, and its wheels. Wheels within wheels they were, and each wheel rimmed with searching eyes. The chariot was drawn by four strange creatures, each with four faces, but they received only a passing glance as the eyes of Ezekiel quickly fastened themselves upon the Gleaming Presence seated upon a throne within the chariot. It was the presence of God. The God whom the exiles had thought had deserted them had found them in Babylon and revealed his presence. The song of joy was born again as the prophet sang, "God is here!"

God Is Near

If you have lost your own sense of the nearness of God, as many have done, you can find it again as did Ezekiel. Look within your storm for the wheels and within the wheels for the Gleaming Presence. God is near.

Do You Know Any Unaffiliated Baptist In Denver Area?

Do you know the name and address of a Southern Baptist individual or family who has moved to the Denver, Colorado, area and who is not now affiliated with a Southern Baptist church?

MAGNOLIA STREET'S NEW FACE—Magnolia Street Church, Laurel, has had a marvelous change of appearance. A new $7,000 steeple towering 92 feet now adorns the five-year old sanctuary. The steeple is equipped with spotlights and chimes. Not shown in the photograph is another feature which adds to the aesthetic appeal of the building: the stone block back of the building has been completed, with matching brick and steel windows. The educational building has a new ten-ton air conditioning unit. Another achievement of this month has been the acquisition of property adjoining the church on the north. A full-time minister of music, Evio de Oliveira, has been added to the staff and moved onto the church field. Rev. D. V. Vaughn is pastor.

July 1 Deadline For Reporting First 30,000 Unit

ATLANTA, Ga. — The deadline for reporting the first mission and church started in the 30,000 Movement is July 1, according to Dr. L. O. Griffith, Atlanta, publicity chairman for the Movement.

There is still a possibility that the first ones started after the Movement began on June 1, 1956, have not been uncovered, Griffith says.

The earliest constitution date reported for a church is June 3, 1956; the first date reported for the organization of a mission is June 10.

"Any church which was constituted after June 1 but before June 3, 1956, should send the information before the July 1 deadline," to L. O. Griffith, Home Mission Board, 161 Spring Street, N. W., Atlanta 3, Ga.

IN MEMORY OF A. H. DONALD

A. H. Donald died April 15, 1960, enroute to the University Hospital. He was a dairyman and farmer of Neshoba County and Waldo Community.

A graduate of Laurel Hill high school, Leake County, the 48-year old Mr. Donald was a member and deacon at New Bethel Baptist church, having accepted Christ in early manhood.

Survivors include Mrs. Donald, the former Irene Hardage, three sons: Gilbert, Philadelphia; Jean, Lake Charles, La.; Shelby Joe, Jackson; a small daughter, Ramona; several brothers and sisters; and his step-mother.

New Bethel Church, Rev. Ray Fulton, pastor, has adopted resolutions honoring Mr. Donald, praising him as a "faithful friend and brother to the deacons, a faithful companion to his wife, and a loving father."

Mr. Donald was buried on Easter morning, "to await the resurrection."

The resolutions stated: "Death, the only prediction we can make about human history with absolute certainty, comes to the old who have lived out their lives; it strikes down men in their prime, silences the vigor of youth, hushes the cry and laughter of little children. Therefore, be it resolved that we grieve his passing and the vacancy he leaves in our church, home, and community. We commend his faithfulness as an example to follow."

Missions Before Buildings For Church In Ohio

CLEVELAND, Ohio — (BP) —Starting missions is more important to a Southern Baptist church in Ohio than a new building.

The five-year old Harmony Baptist church in Cleveland, O., just started construction on the first unit of their building; but they have sponsored four missions and give 17 per cent of their total offerings to world missions through Southern Baptists' Cooperative Program, according to Pastor James A. McCamish.

The 200-member church once had a membership of more than 300. They shared members as well as financial resources with the missions they sponsored, three of which are already self-supporting churches, the remaining mission is Hungarian.

The church's new one-story structure with a seating capacity of 261 includes space to house the Sunday School with 200 enrolled and the 100-member Training Union.

J. D. Franks Gave Testimony About Frankstown

The late Dr. J. D. Frank, who passed away several weeks ago, had written his testimony of the Frankstown Mission at Frankstown as follows:

"This is a unique and needed Christian ministry you are offering. Many weary, wayfaring travelers heeding the invitation will be blessed with renewed spiritual strength and revitalized hope.

It is a practical religious service which could become an inspiration leading many other communities of America to undertake a similar ministry. May God grant far reaching results."
